

AMENDMENTS TO THE CLAIMS

This listing of claims will replace all prior versions and listings of claims in the application:

LISTING OF CLAIMS:

1. (currently amended) A weapon stock, adapted to receive a firing assembly including a barrel and a receiver connected to the barrel,

said weapon stock having a ~~first~~ pistol grip interposed between a first forestock located towards a forward end and a buttstock located towards a rear end, such that in assembly with said firing assembly, said barrel is located adjacent to said first forestock towards said forward end, wherein said weapon stock further includes an elongated lower second forestock element spatially separated below said first forestock for at least part of its length at a location substantially at or below the ~~first~~ pistol grip and extending for a distance equal to or less than the distance between the an end of the barrel end-distal to said receiver and said-rear an end of said the buttstock distal to the barrel, said second forestock being attached to said first forestock at ~~two or more~~ one attachment points and attached to either the buttstock or the pistol grip at another attachment point wherein at one or more said attachment point(s) the second forestock is not integrally formed with said stock, wherein at least one said ~~second~~ attachment point is attached to said first forestock by one or more bracing elements extending downwardly from the first forestock and wherein at least one said bracing element is a handgrip, and wherein the second forestock extends below any all pistol grips and operational features of the firing assembly barrel, receiver, trigger and magazine (where fitted).

Claims 2 - 3 (canceled).

4. (previously presented): The weapon stock as claimed in claim 1 wherein said handgrip is a second pistol grip.

5. (original): The weapon stock as claimed in claim 1, wherein said second forestock includes attachment points located at one or both of said first pistol grip and said first forestock.

6. (withdrawn): The weapon stock as claimed in claim 1, wherein said second forestock, attachment points include said first pistol grip, said buttstock and said first forestock.

7. (withdrawn): The weapon stock as claimed in claim 1, wherein said attachment points of said second fore stock include the buttstock.

8. (original): The weapon stock as claimed in claim 1, wherein said second forestock extends in a substantially parallel orientation with said barrel.

9. (original): The weapon stock as claimed in claim 1, wherein said second forestock is inclined upwards towards said forward end.

10. (original): The weapon stock as claimed in claim 1, wherein said second forestock is inclined downwards towards said forward end.

11. (original): The weapon stock as claimed in claim 1, wherein said second forestock is discontinuous at one or more points between said buttstock and the distal end of the barrel.

12. (original): The weapon stock as claimed in claim 1, wherein said second forestock is discontinuous at one or more points between said buttstock and said first pistol grip.

13. (original): The weapon stock as claimed in claim 1, wherein said second forestock extends continuously from said first pistol grip towards the distal end of the barrel.

14. (withdrawn): The weapon stock as claimed in claim 1, wherein said second forestock is discontinuous at one or more points between said first pistol grip and the distal end of the barrel.

15. (withdrawn): The weapon stock as claimed in claim 1, wherein said buttstock at least partly defines a first opening configured to accept insertion of a user's shoulder and to rest the weapon thereupon to provide a shoulder sling.

16. (withdrawn): The weapon stock as claimed in claim 1, wherein said second forestock at least partly defines a second opening configured to accept insertion of a user's shoulder and to rest the weapon thereupon to provide a shoulder sling.

17. (withdrawn): The weapon stock as claimed in claim 1, wherein said second forestock is configured to accept one or more weapon accessories.

18. (withdrawn): The weapon stock as claimed in claim 17, wherein said weapon accessories include hipods, extra handgrips, weapon magazines, bayonets, wire-cutters, communication devices, computational devices, batteries, target designator/acquisition devices and grenade launchers.

19. (withdrawn): The weapon stock as claimed in claim 1, wherein said second forestock and/or said buttstock includes one or more support elements rotatably attached to the second forestock and/or buttstock and capable of being rotated laterally outwards from the stock to support the stock in a substantially horizontally-upright position when placed on a solid or semi-solid surface.

20. (withdrawn): The weapon stock as claimed in claim 1, wherein said second forestock is releasably attached at a first end to said weapon stock, and pivotally attached to the weapon stock at a second end.

21. (withdrawn): The weapon stock as claimed in claim 20, wherein said second forestock is capable of being rotated downwards about said second end to act as a weapon support.

22. (withdrawn): The weapon stock as claimed in claim 21, wherein the second end is capable of engaging with a support element worn by the user.

23. (withdrawn): The weapon stock as claimed in claim 1, wherein the second forestock located between said first pistol grip and the rear end of said buttstock is inclined upwards or downward towards said rear end.

24. (withdrawn): The weapon stock as claimed in claim 1, further including a first forestock sling attachment element attached to said first forestock and extending at least partially over said barrel.

25. (currently amended): The weapon stock as claimed in any one of claims 1, 4, 5 and 8-13, wherein said attachment point of said second forestock to any of said buttstock, ~~first pistol grip, second pistol grip~~, or first forestock is by at least one of adjustable, releasable, pivotable, or slidable fastening ~~and/or any combination of same~~.

Claims 26 - 51 are cancelled.

52. (currently amended): A weapon stock, adapted to receive a firing assembly including a barrel and a receiver connected to the barrel,

said weapon stock having a ~~first~~ pistol grip interposed between a first forestock located towards a forward end and a buttstock located towards a rear end, such that in assembly with said firing assembly, said barrel is located adjacent to said first forestock towards said forward end, wherein said weapon stock further includes an elongated lower second forestock element spatially separated below said first forestock for at least part of its length at a location substantially at or below the ~~first~~ pistol grip and extending for a distance equal to or less than the distance between the an end of the barrel end-distal to said receiver and ~~said rear-an~~ end of said ~~the~~ buttstock distal to the barrel, said second forestock being attached to said first forestock at ~~two or more~~ one attachment points and attached to either the butt-stock or the pistol grip at another attachment point wherein at one or more said attachment point(s) the second forestock is not integrally formed with said stock, wherein at least one said ~~second~~ attachment point is attached to said first forestock by one or more bracing elements extending downwardly from the first forestock and wherein at least one said bracing element is a handgrip, and wherein the second forestock lies in substantially the same plane as defined by the firing assembly, first forestock and the pistol grip, and extends below all any pistol grips ~~and operational features of the firing assembly barrel, receiver, trigger and magazine (where fitted)~~.

Claim 53 is cancelled